Amelia Spelled inherited a magnificent Victorian house and bake shop from her Aunt Angelica. The only problem is the house is "œa live" and plays the TV at all hours of the day and night and seems to like certain TV shows. Last story it was The Cooking Channel and Jamie Oliver, now it's "œGame of Thorns." The 2nd problem is Amelia cannot cook or bake to save her life. Also prior to moving to Amelia did not know she was a witch, so along with the house, baking and trying out her skills Amelia is what the kids today would call "œa hot mess." While transplanting a rose bush Amelia accidentally digs up a metal box with an old spell book inside. Thinking that a spell to improve her baking skills would help her accidentally summons up an entity who says his name is Fred. Amelia's cats Willow and Hawthorn add to the story line, while the antics of the house make you think what it would be like to have a house, which made a room just for you, or changes the rooms around while you're sleeping. At the bake shop an ex-boyfriend Craig and the horrible mail lady Kayleen were choosing their pastry when Scott Plank the town planner came in pushing Craig and Kayleen out of the way demanding service immediately. Throwing a lemon bar cupcake on the floor, Amelia left to get a broom to clean up. Returning she finds Fred her entity standing over the dead body of Scott on the floor. OMG did Fred kill Scott and what happened to Craig and Kayleen. Amelia, Ruprecht, Adler, Camino, Thyme and granddaughter Mint help Amelia solve this mystery. I love this series, you laugh with the house antics, the cats giving clues to the mystery and the way Amelia is beginning to know her powers.

Such a fun series. Morgana doesn't waste any time getting to the murder this time. Amelia and her friends are getting to be accomplished sleuths. She is finding a way to navigate her path since inheriting her aunt's house and bakery. A fast read that left me looking forward to the next book in the series. Recommend this series for lovers of cozy mysteries with a big touch of magic.

This is a great book; this is the fourth book in the Kitchen Witch series written by Morgana Best. Amelia Spelled is a witch and not the very best baker. When she discovers an old spell book, which to her delight contains a spell to improve one's baking. When a spelling mistake is thrown into the mix, she accidentally summons an entity. She just needs to figure out how to reverse the spell.

This is a great book with a wonderful story and well developed characters. This book will keep you reading long into the night and you will not want to put this book down until you finish. This was such a great read and full of surprises. I am looking forward to reading the next book by this great author. A Review copy was provided to me in exchange for a fair and honest review. The free book held no determination on my personal review.

I've been so excited for the new book in this series to come out and 'Spelling Mistake' didn't disappoint! I've said before that this is my favourite witchy cozy mystery series (and I've read a lot of them), and this book has only confirmed that. Fun mystery, hilarious characters and a supernatural 'assistant' who only seems to hinder Amelia's efforts - 5 stars and absolutely recommend.

Amelua seems to be a bit of a bumbling "Witch" and can't get her spells right. This one isn't necessarily her fault as the "spell" is misspelled and conjurs up an odd little assistant, one she could do with out. This is a fun series with fun characters, don't miss out!

Another enjoyable story with Amelia! It all started when she was trying to plant a rose and dug up a metal box! The contents really stirred up some mischief and the need to search for a killer. I love this series! The characters are funny and interesting. The house is definitely one of a kind!! I'm looking forward to the next book in this series. Maybe Amelia will eventually learn to bake?
